Step-6: Now, select one cell and type `print("Hello, World!")` as shown below and hit the play button

Getting set up with Google Colab

Step-7: This will take some time to run and give you the below output -

The screenshot shows a Google Colab interface with a dark theme. At the top, there are tabs for '+ Code' and '+ Text'. Below the tabs, a code cell is displayed. On the left side of the code cell, there is a green checkmark icon and the text '0s'. To the right of the icon is a play button icon. The code cell contains the following Python code: `print("Hello, World!")`. Below the code, the output of the code is shown: 'Hello, World!'. Below the code cell, there is a large text area with the message: 'This output implies that you are successfully able to connect to google colab!'.

```
+ Code + Text
```

```
✓ 0s [play] print("Hello, World!")
```

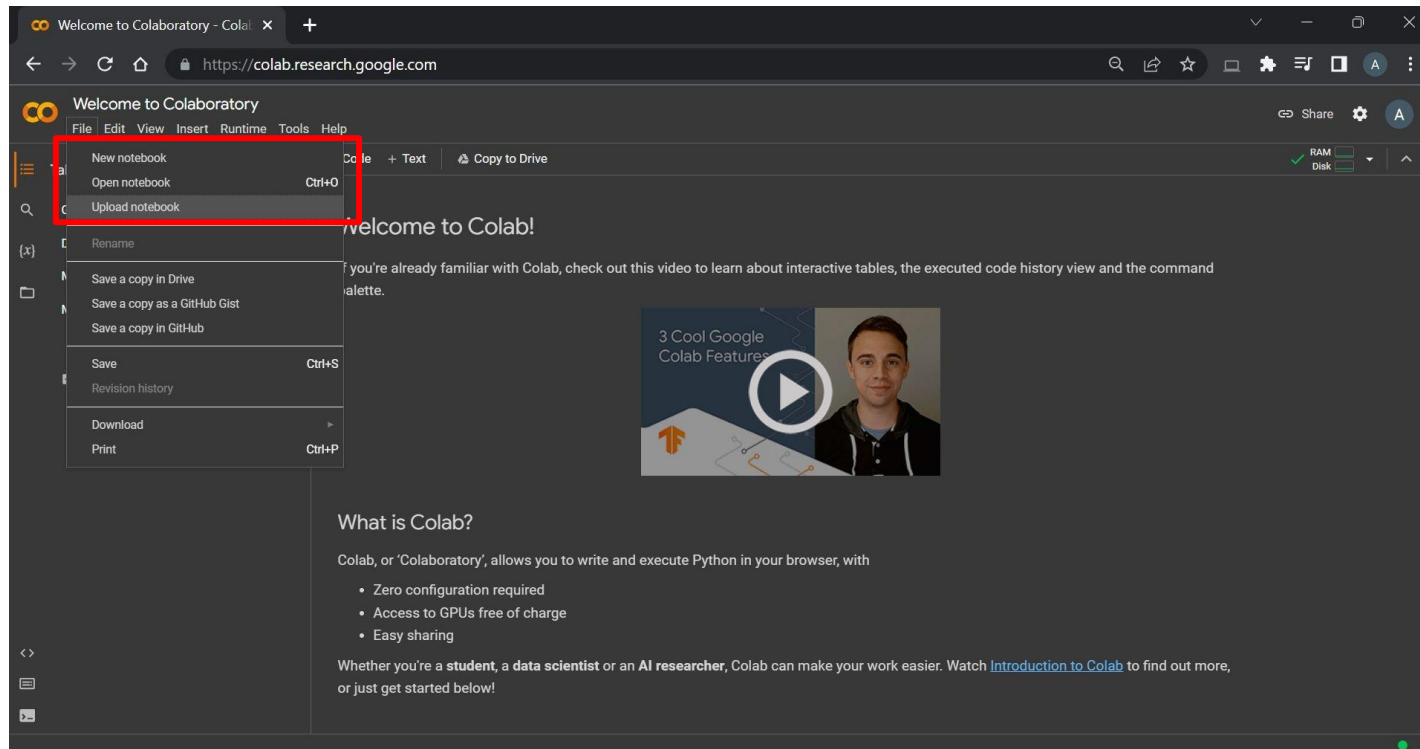

```
Hello, World!
```

This output implies that you are successfully able to connect to google colab!
